

2015 PHS Philadelphia Flower Show Major Exhibitors

PENNSYLVANIA

Bucks County

Delaware Valley College
Flowers by David
Mark Cook Landscape & Contracting, LLC
Philadelphia Cactus & Succulent Society
Rosade Bonsai Studio

Chester County

North American Rock Garden Society, Delaware Valley Chapter
Organic Mechanics Soil Company, LLC
Pennsylvania Bonsai Society
Philadelphia Society of Botanical Illustrators

Delaware County

J. Downend Landscaping, Inc.
Michael Petrie's Handmade Gardens
Stoney Bank Nurseries
Williamson Free School of Mechanical Trades

Montgomery County

American Rhododendron Society, Greater Philadelphia Chapter
Burke Brothers Landscape Design/Build
Delaware Valley Fern and Wildflower Society
Hunter Hayes Landscape Design
Robertson's Flowers & Events
Temple University, Ambler Campus

Philadelphia

American Institute of Floral Designers (AIFD)
Green Mountain Energy
Horticulture Academy at Abraham Lincoln High School
Men's Garden Club of Philadelphia
PURE Design
W.B. Saul High School of Agricultural Sciences
Schaffer Designs
The Philadelphia Phillies
Tiny Terra Ferma, Ltd.
U.S. EPA Region III

FEATURED PRESENTATIONS FOR “Celebrate the Movies”

NEW JERSEY

Camden Children’s Garden
EP Henry Corp.
Espoma
Ikebana International
Mercer County Community College
Michael Bruce Florist
Subaru of America
Waldor Orchids

NEW YORK

Hudson Valley Seed Library

DELAWARE

Irwin Landscaping, Inc.
University of Delaware

OHIO

America In Bloom

INTERNATIONAL

Australia

Jim Fogarty Design PTY Ltd

Great Britain

Jacques Amand International
Paul Hervey-Brookes & Associates

Ireland

Tourism Ireland

Malaysia

Inchscape

Netherlands

Netherlands American Business Association

South Africa

Leon Kluge Landscape Design

Pennsylvania Horticultural Society

100 N. 20TH Street, 5th Floor
Philadelphia, PA 19103

Contact: Show Designer Sam Lemheney, 215-988-1621, slemheney@Pennhort.org

Entrance Garden

The Entrance Garden recalls the fantastic interiors of 1920s movie palaces, with towering juniper and palm trees and grand chandeliers dripping with blossoms, moss, jewels and fabrics. Sweeps of 800 blue-green and variegated hostas surround the planters of the star-studded rose garden, with blooms named in honor of silver-screen legends, including Judy Garland (orange-yellow), Marilyn Monroe, (peach), Elizabeth Taylor (pink), Henry Fonda (yellow), and Barbra Streisand (pink lavender). An 8-foot centerpiece of cut roses and other blossoms is the largest arrangement ever created for a Flower Show entrance. The garden also features 1,500 calla lilies in yellow, lavender, peach-orange and plum; 1,400 ferns; New Guinea patiens, pentas, digiplexis, geraniums, anemones, pineapple lilies, and rieger begonias. The Entrance Garden is the opening act in an astounding presentation that turns the silver screen into living color on the Flower Show floor.

LANDSCAPE

Burke Brothers Landscape Design/Build

7630 Cheltenham Avenue, Wyndmoor, PA, 19038

Contact: Kali Smalley, 215-887-1773, kali@burkebrothers.com

Root 66

This year's exhibit offers a true behind-the-scenes look at a landscape design studio celebrating its 25th year in business. Visitors are able to enter the office and observe staff hard at work on spring design projects. The studio is set in a 'junkyard garden' reminiscent of Tow Mater's Towing & Salvage from the Disney•Pixar movie, "Cars." The exhibit also showcases the company's growing permaculture hobbies, including beekeeping and raising backyard chickens.

EP Henry

P.O. Box 615, Woodbury, NJ, 08096

Contact: 800-444-3679

Exhibit Designer: Joe Palimeno of Ledden Palimeno Design, joep@leddenpalimeno.com

Where Memories Are Made

The enchantment of Old World pavers, outdoor lighting, and the ambient sound of water calls you outside. The warm air and inviting scent of flowers beckon you to step into your own courtyard. As dusk settles, a glass of Bordeaux is served and inspiration takes over. You prepare an appetizer to amuse your palette, and curious neighbors take notice and invite themselves in through the gated entrance. Before long, someone suggests it's a perfect night for a movie, with only the fireflies to compete with the projector and outdoor screen. With the audience comfortably seated on deep cushions, the 10-foot-high Green Wall reveals the screen that will run the chosen selection in this outdoor theater. Tonight it's all about making memories with people you love. What better place than your own backyard?

Hunter Hayes Landscape Design

102 Holland Avenue, Ardmore, PA 19003

Contact: Lauren Hilburn, 610-896-0309, Lauren@hayeshorticulture.com

Let's Get Together

A rustic camping cabin sits nestled on the banks of a natural swimming hole. Tall trees and woodland blooms pop up from the forest, creating a beautiful summer camping oasis. Roasting marshmallows, campfire songs, swimming, hiking and adventure await in this exhibit inspired by "The Parent Trap."

Inchscape

16 Jalan Sin Chew Kee

50150, Kuala Lumpur, W.P. Malaysia

Contact: Lim In Chong (Inch), +6012 777 0560, studio@inchscape.com.my

The Persian Garden

A little doorway and crumbling stone columns festooned with epiphytes lead the way to a mogul pavilion that sits on the edge of a moat. A silver moon floats on the calm water. A small fountain splashes clean water onto a basin and creates a soothing tinkle. Exotic tropical plants complete this night scene that evokes a dream in this garden inspired by "The Prince of Persia."

Irwin Landscaping

P.O. Box 186, Hockessin, DE 19707

Contact: Pete Irwin, 302-239-9229, irwinland@msn.com

Pooh's Hunny Depot

Nestled in a woodland clearing, Pooh's 'Hunny' Depot and picnic area, set on opposite sides of a stream, are connected by a rustic bridge. The colorful balloons and blooming flowers create a playful and inviting atmosphere for Winnie and his friends.

J. Downend Landscaping, Inc.

411 Smiley Street, Crum Lynne, PA 19022

Contact: Tom Morris, 610-833-1500 ext. 12, tmorris@downendlandscaping.com

Underwater Adventure (Inspired by Finding Nemo)

Underwater Adventure emulates a tropical marine environment through the use of hardy annual, succulent and tropical plants arranged to mimic their marine cousins living on a coral reef. With a dock anchoring the garden and a boat suspended in the air to create the illusion of a waterline, the overall effect of being below the ocean's surface will be enjoyed by visitors. Fish Tail Palms create the effect of schooling fish, while agave plants serve as the tentacles of an octopus living in and around the reef. Euphorbia, Astilbe and Celosia create the illusion of living corals in the garden, while Ficus, Cordyline and Daffodils resemble different seaweed and sea grasses providing cover for some colorful seahorses. The sea floor is sculpted with sand and coral outcrops that come alive with sculptures of sea life working in unison to create the overall experience of being below the ocean's surface in one of our most precious natural environments.

Jacques Amand International

The Nurseries, Clamp Hill, Stanmore, Middlesex, HA73JS UK

Contact: Elaine Wiggers, 480-656-6151, elaine@jacquesamandintl.com

Supercalifragilisticexpialidocious

Supercalifragilisticexpialidocious rather wonderfully expresses the idea of the fantastic and fabulous! The exhibit provides visitors a horticulturally delightful vision, a phenomenal collection of diverse and colorful bulbs in flower – rare and unusual, as well as familiar favorites – recreating the magic of a spring day in an English park. A major feature of the garden is perhaps the largest collection of dwarf iris ever exhibited in a flower show. The garden will be accented with sculptural architectural elements by Lisa Fedon Sculpture Studio. "A thing of beauty is a joy forever." John Keats (and Mary Poppins).

Jim Fogarty Design Pty. Ltd.

2 Illowa Street, Malvern East

Victoria 3145

Australia

Contact: Jim Fogarty, +61398138550, jim@jimfogartydesign.com.au

Guess the Movie

Designers of the Philadelphia Flower Show's large garden and floral displays challenge and inspire us all with their over-the-top interpretations and trend-setting use of beautiful plants and exquisite floral creations. This year, one special display will invite Show visitors to guess which movie inspired the design. Clue: This featured display by award-winning Australian designer Jim Fogarty promises to be one of the Show's most provocative presentations.

Leon Kluge Landscape Design

Contact: Leon Kluge, 013 755 6012, leonkluge@yahoo.com

A Maleficent View

From deep in the land of the moors, where trees seem to have a life of their own, where water illuminates in different flowing colors and mystical creatures float by on a breeze of air, it is here, in this magical place where the inspiration for this garden was born and transformed into a home garden that takes visitors on a magical journey. Wander over a mystical-colored pond surrounded by ancient trees and hills morphing into pathways and steps. The closer you come, the more they entice you to explore, stretching out their branches and flattening their roots, shaping them into a wooden stairway leading to the top-most part of the garden where you enter a beautifully woven enclosure overlooking a valley of complete splendor and peacefulness. As you daydream in the comfort of the soft day bed, something catches your attention, almost as if it's your imagination. A rustling of wind flicks your hair and a faint shadow passes overhead. And you know, with a smile in your heart, your fairy godmother is always watching.

Mark Cook Landscape & Contracting LLC

P.O. Box 1112, Doylestown, PA 18901

Contact: Mark Cook, 215-345-9164, mclcdesign@gmail.com

The Quarters

Breathing in inspiration from "The Pirates of the Caribbean," this nautical garden exhales the high seas, beckoning all to the captain's quarters. Steel accents, flickering candles, and seafaring undertones are the life of this pirate's retreat. Modern lines will keep your bearings, while the garden's compass will guide you toward the horizon.

Men's Garden Club of Philadelphia

353 Aubrey Road, Narberth, PA 19072

Contact: Stanley M. P. Amey, 610-658-2004, stan@stanamey.com

Tarzan

Tarzan, a favorite for generations, was created by Edgar Rice Burroughs in 1912. Since that time, the novels have been adapted into television shows, comic books, animated features, and more than 200 movies. The story begins with a young couple who survived a shipwreck off the coast of Africa. The husband built a home from the remnants of their ship for his wife and young son. Sadly, the parents lost their lives. The baby was found and raised by a family of apes, who taught him how to survive in the wild and to communicate with all the animals. Tarzan was later discovered by an expedition, and he met and fell in love with Jane. Returning to England, Tarzan claimed his rightful title as Lord Greystoke and married Jane. After many experiences around the world, they returned to his jungle home where they lived with their family of Cheetah and Boy. With these tales in mind, a lavish play place has been created for children. The waterfall, pond, and garden of tropical plants transports young explorers to treehouse adventures of their own, complete with swinging ropes and Tarzan's call of the wild.

Michael Petrie's Handmade Gardens

P.O. Box 7, Swarthmore, PA 19081

Contact: Michael Petrie, 610-505-8262

Into the Woods

Look into the dark forest, down the narrow path and through the tangled vines...and find your way to a secret garden of light.

Paul Hervey-Brookes & Associates

The Old Forge

Ham, Berkeley

Gloucestershire GL 139QH

Contact: Paul Hervey-Brookes, +44 1453 511915, info@paulherveybrookes.com

The Lion, the Witch & The Wardrobe

Evacuated to a country house set in the rolling English countryside sheltered from Blitz-ridden London, a game of hide and seek leads to a magical land where all is not as it first seems. The garden draws on this English country house, a peaceful refuge to which so many children like Lucy, Edmund, Susan and Peter were sent to safely live out WWII. However, this house is like no other. A portal in an empty room leads to the magical land of Narnia where, thanks to the White Witch, it is always winter but never Christmas. The garden is classically English with wide lawns and clipped hedges, and a wealth of herbaceous planting gives way to a garden pavilion. Inside this little space, the portal can be glimpsed, its door ajar. Through this portal and creeping around the side of the garden, Narnia, with its iconic gas light where Lucy first met Mr. Tumnus, is held in winter, which has lasted for over 100 years.

Stoney Bank Nurseries

61 Stoney Bank Road, Glen Mills, PA 19342

Contact: J. Joseph Blandy, 610-459-5100, design@stoneybanknurseries.com

Chinese Blossoms

Leaving the peace and tranquility that abide within the diverse plants, architectural rocks, and calm waters of her home garden, “Mulan” secretly breaks tradition to take her ailing father’s place in the Emperor’s army. Blooming magnolias, iris, and lotus add splashes of color to artistically pruned and sculpted trees and shrubs. Penjing, the Chinese Bonsai, supplement the landscape, evoking the atmosphere associated with high mountains, dappled glades, and isolated trees on rocky cliffs. For Mulan, the preservation of this home and garden welcomes her back to a life of balance and order.

Waldor Orchids

10 E. Poplar Avenue, Linwood, NJ 08221

Contact: Walter Off, 609-927-4126, walt@waldor.com

Peter Pan in Neverland

Inspired by the magical adventures of “Peter Pan” and his sidekick, Tinker Bell, this garden is filled with beautiful orchids and exotic foliage. Relive the story of Peter Pan and the three Darling children – Wendy, John and Michael – as they fly off to Neverland for escapades with the Lost Boys, mermaids, Captain Hook and the pirates. This interpretation of the magical story reminds us that childhood dreams live forever.

FLORAL

American Institute of Floral Designers (AIFD)

12343 Academy Road, Philadelphia, PA 19154

Contact: Ron Mulray, 215-632-6270, ronmulray@aol.com

Princesses

Visitors young and old are transformed into a magical mood as they enter the red carpet experience created by the American Institute of Floral Designers. The Eleven Official Disney Princesses, from the first Snow White to the last Merida, are depicted in a floral interpretation of their individual style and story. Spectacular flowers in brilliant colors give each viewer the opportunity to imagine something special about every princess.

Flowers by David

2048 E. Old Lincoln Highway, Langhorne, PA 19047

Contact: Robin or David Heller, 215-750-3400, robin@flowersbydavid.com

Remy's Place

What goes better together than flowers and food? The answer is flowers, food prepared by Little Chef, and a Parisian party. But the guests may not be those one might suspect. Inspired by "Ratatouille," designs for a festive evening await!

Michael Bruce Florist

7025 Colonial Highway, Unit 4, Pennsauken, NJ 08108

Contact: Michael Bruce, 856-854-6322, mbfint@yahoo.com

Silver Thaw

The line between winter and summer blurs when the spring thaw occurs. A cold, hard landscape melts into spring softness as a "Frozen" ice castle is thawed by love.

PURE Design

500 South 22nd Street, Philadelphia, PA 19146

Contact: Michael Haschak, 215-545-6666, philapure@aol.com

Dreams of the Magic Carpet

Using "Aladdin" as inspiration, the exhibit creates an event space for a lifestyle fitting a time long ago. Lavishly decorated tents are centered around a magical flying carpet waiting to whisk you away into a beautiful dreamland.

Robertson's Flowers & Events

1301 E. Mermaid Lane, Wyndmoor, PA 19038

Contact: Lisa Roth, 215-836-3057, lroth@robertsonflowers.com

A Fairy Tale Ending – Cinderella's Wedding

The glass slipper, it fits! Cinderella has found her prince and they live happily ever after. But what happens next? The fairy tale can't end there. We want to know more, like what does Cinderella's wedding gown look like? Does she wear the glass slippers? Are the flowers over the top? Will Prince Charming's name be revealed on the invitation? The movie may have ended, but this exhibit continues the fairy tale of Cinderella. From elaborate sparkling glass to capture the slipper to beautiful white and pink flowers designed in exquisite arrangements, the exhibit creates a scene where the glass slipper is left behind while entering the ceremony and reception space where Cinderella and Prince Charming get married. A slight "French" style will prevail throughout this lush, rich scene.

Schaffer Designs

1021 N. Hancock Street, Unit 3, Philadelphia, PA 19123

Contact: Bill Schaffer, AIFD, AAF, PFCI and Kristine Kratt, AIFD, PFCI, 267-577-8555,

bill@schafferdesigns.com

The Nightmare Before Christmas

Schaffer Designs is inspired by amusing but imaginatively morbid fairytales. No one creates these macabre stories better than those that are conjured from the deliciously demented imagination of Tim Burton. "The Nightmare Before Christmas" is surreal and expressionistic in its tale of Jack Skellington, The Pumpkin King, and his search for a greater meaning beyond the celebration of Halloween. After discovering Christmas Town, Jack decides to kidnap Santa and take the holiday to Halloween Town and make it his own. This "Burton-esque" floral portrayal of the mystical and dark wonderfulness of Giant Snakes, Evil Wreaths, Monster Presents and other Creepy Creatures all create a celebration of the macabre rather than a season to be jolly.

EDUCATIONAL

Camden Children's Garden

3 Riverside Drive, Camden NJ 08103

Contact: Michael Devlin, 856-365-8733, mdevlin@camdenchildrensgarden.org

Showtime New Jersey

The exhibit presents a vegetable and fruit community garden that is home to Garden Fairies who have built their houses with recycled memorabilia from Hollywood movies with a New Jersey connection. The celebrities honored include: Steven Spielberg, who grew up in the Haddonfield/Haddon Township area, Bruce Willis from Penns Grove; Kelly Ripa from Berlin; Danny DeVito from Neptune; Bruce Springsteen from Asbury Park; and Tasha Smith from Camden. The exhibit references Hollywood and the movies and is very child-friendly and interactive. It includes historical references to Camden as the location of the first drive-in movie theatre. Children from Camden participated in the exhibit by painting theme-related fence pickets which will be returned to Camden and recycled into the Children's Garden.

Delaware Valley College, Department of Landscape Architecture and Environmental Science

700 E. Butler Avenue, Doylestown, PA 18901

Contact: Michael Fleischacker, MLA, ASLA, RLA, LEED AP, 215-489-2330,

Michael.Fleischacker@delval.edu

The Rising Tide of Urbanism

The year is 2139. The polar ice caps have melted due to climate change, resulting in a drastic increase in sea levels. Now that the waters have encroached upon the neighborhood, residents have chosen to rise with the tides. Life here is challenging but achievable and the inhabitants are forging a new world. This rooftop sanctuary is creating an oasis in the Rising Tide of Urbanism.

Horticulture Academy at Abraham Lincoln High School

3201 Ryan Avenue, Philadelphia, PA 19136

Contact: Karen Kardon Weber, 215-335-3213, kkardonweber@philasd.org

A Walk to Remember

Beautiful gardens replenish the earth and soothe the soul. An Alzheimer's Garden is specifically planned for the safety of the patient, and can serve as a place of rejuvenation for the caregiver. An Alzheimer's Garden has the potential to lift the spirit, act as a sanctuary, stimulate the senses and provide great therapeutic value. Take a stroll through the interior room and outdoor garden designed for a person with Alzheimer's and experience the tranquility these spaces provide.

Mercer County Community College Horticulture Program

1200 Old Trenton Rd, West Windsor Township, NJ 08550

Contact: Amy Ricco, 609-570-3372, riccoa@mccc.edu

Exhibit Designer: Carl Hagerty Topiaries, Carl Hagerty, 215-788-2158, ahagerty1601@comcast.net

The Sorcerer's Apprentice Meets The Horticulturist's Apprentice

In 1940, Walt Disney originally released "Fantasia" and "The Sorcerer's Apprentice," in which Mickey was an apprentice for a magician. Although depicted as a fantasy in the movies, studying through apprenticeship was, and still is, supported through the National Apprenticeship Act of 1937. Each year, approximately 500,000 apprentices in 800 different occupations are registered with the Bureau of Apprenticeship and Training. Horticulture is one of those careers.

Netherlands American Business Association (NABA)

P.O. Box 515, Willow Grove, PA 19090

Contact: Tom Snyder, 215-280-2969, tasnyder@endemuseum.org

The Little Green House

In the world of horticulture, a greenhouse typically has one meaning: a building where plants are grown. This Little Green House holds another significant historical and traditional story. The quintessential Old Dutch village house is rooted in Dutch tradition, advocating horticulture, art and travel. Within this exhibit, visitors find colorful arrangements of tulips, daffodils and hyacinths, images of the beautiful Keukenhof Gardens and the lush vibrant flower fields of the Netherlands.

Organic Mechanics Soil Company, LLC

P.O. Box 272, Modena, PA 19358

Contact: Mark Highland, 610-380-4598, mark@organicmechanicsoil.com

Happy Hour

Drink your garden! Cascading hop vines mingle with plump grains used in beer brewing. Grapevines feature the Scuppernong, the original grape used to make wine for U.S. pioneers. Accent plants highlight the plant palette used by mixologists to create specialty craft cocktails. Come explore the plants used to create the adult beverages you love.

Temple University, Ambler

School of Environmental Design

580 Meetinghouse Road, Ambler, PA 19002

Contact: Rob Kuper, PLA, ASLA, 267-468-8179, rkuper@temple.edu

Star Power: Casts of Light that Stir and Spellbind

Rousing! Enchanting! Every bit entertaining! Beneath blackened leaves, an orchestra of katydids and crickets play among the footsteps and whispers of silhouettes. A winged shape streaks across the sky. White petals glimmer. Leaf edges gleam. Beyond a mist, light beams upon walls of wood, schist, and succulents. Flowers of fringe tree and fothergilla shine. Water and vines descend aglow. Blooms, bark, and buds with glitz. Catch the show! Two hours of action and glamour. Plays twice daily, year-round.

University of Delaware

152 Townsend Hall, Newark, DE 19716

Contact: Professor Jules Bruck, jbruck@udel.edu

Forest to Pharmacy: Medicinal and Edible Plants of the Amazon Rainforest

Movies allow us to see things differently and become immersed in new worlds. The Amazon rainforest is commonly referred to as the “lungs of the world,” as almost half of the world’s medicines can be linked to plant compounds from the rainforest. Products from the Amazon profoundly impact the lives of all people. This exhibit invites visitors to become immersed in the Amazon, take a seat in the director’s chair, and dictate how to conserve this vital resource for the future.

U.S. EPA Region III

1650 Arch Street, Philadelphia, PA 19103

Contact: Todd Lutte, 215-814-2099, lutte.todd@epa.gov

Now Showing at a Garden Near You

From EPA studios, in association with the ecology of the Mid-Atlantic Region, the Office of Environmental Programs Team presents a formal garden adorned with native plants, a fountain and a place of peaceful contemplation for audiences of all ages. Learn how to transform a backyard into a sustainable native garden, lower maintenance costs, reduce pesticide use, and invite wildlife while supporting the local ecology. Contrary to the traditional landscaping storyline of vast lawns dotted with trees and formal hedges usually of exotic origins, which often require great care and chemical fertilizers and pesticides, this garden shows alternatives that are less polluting and at the same time attractive, cheaper and easier to maintain. Enjoy a formal garden of native plants representing how a backyard can become both a formal garden and a sustainable part of the natural world. Visitors will be inspired by a diverse array of aquatic plants, azaleas, laurels, dogwoods, pitcher plants, phlox and many other varieties of native flora which can be incorporated into a formal sustainable garden.

W.B. Saul High School of Agricultural Sciences

7100 Henry Avenue, Philadelphia, PA 19128

Contact: Lisa Blum, 215-487-4467, Lblum10305@aol.com

Time for Tea

Enter Wonderland for tea on a patio surrounded by the characters and symbols from Alice's dream. The sweeping landscape moves from low-lying ferns and mushrooms through the wrought iron gate up to the tea party under the cherry canopy. The Red Queen, White Queen, Alice, and the Mad Hatter are reflected in the color of flowers within a distorted maze of doors, trees and geometrical shrubbery.

Williamson Free School of Mechanical Trades

106 S. New Middletown Road, Media, PA 19063

Contact: Chuck Feld, cfeld@williamson.edu

The Bloom Awards

The students of the Horticulture, Landscape, and Turfgrass Management program highlight outstanding plants hardy to the Philadelphia area. The plants used in this exhibit are plants evaluated and chosen for their superb eye-appeal, performance, and hardiness in the growing regions of Zones 5 -7. The featured plants are award-winning plants given by associations and societies. The chosen are: PHS Gold Medal Plants; All America Selections Winners; and Royal Horticulture Society Award of Garden Merit. The horticulture students formed committees to plan, research the plants, and design the exhibit.

PLANT SOCIETIES

American Rhododendron Society, Greater Philadelphia Chapter

1551 Butler Pike, Blue Bell, PA 19422

Contact: Linda Fowler Hartnett, 610-940-4978, lindahartnett@gmail.com

Reach for the Stars

Enjoy a star-studded display featuring some of the "star performers" for this region of the United States. This show of color, with unique and interesting foliage, blends together to create a vibrant garden display.

Delaware Valley Fern and Wildflower Society

121 Garden Road, Oreland, PA, 19075

Contact: Tom Tomer, tdtomer@juno.com

The Natives Are Restless

Native plants have grown in the local environment for thousands of years and are quite happy living in this area. Because they are native, they are more adapted to local weather and will generally flourish where non-natives may not. Native plants, once they are established, usually require less care and maintenance. Native plants also improve the quality of life for birds, bees, butterflies and other wildlife. Native ferns planted in the garden offer a personal connection with the plants growing in the fields and woods of this region. Invite the natives into your back yard. They may be restless, but they settle in and shouldn't be feared.

North American Rock Garden Society, Delaware Valley Chapter

1320 Ashbridge Road, West Chester, PA 19380

Contact: Mary Ann Ulmann, ulmann@msn.com

Living the Dream: A Rock Garden in Your Own Back Yard

On just a small plot of ground, this gardener has made his dream of creating a beautiful rock garden come true. He has three weatherproof hypertufa troughs and a custom-made raised planter in which he has recreated a bit of alpine scenery with some lovely miniature plants and a few attractive rocks. Here there is a place to work, a place to sit, and a way to connect with nature.

Philadelphia Cactus & Succulent Society

335 Fieldstone Drive, New Hope, PA 18938

Contact: Paul G. Wesolowski, 267-614-2989, pwesolowski@bmtc.com

We're Ready for Our Close-Up

The Philadelphia Cactus and Succulent Society was founded in 1942. Its purpose is to exchange knowledge of and experience with succulents among its members. This includes their study, culture, propagation, growing, and collection. Membership is open to anyone with an interest in growing and learning more about succulents. There are more than 100 members at all levels of expertise – beginners and experts, collectors and growers.

EXHIBITION ONLY

America In Bloom

2130 Stella Ct., Columbus, OH 43215

Contact: Laura Kunkle, 614-487-1117, aib@ofa.org

Our Cities Are Blooming Stars

Groundbreaking! Pure Greenius! Cinema Verite at its Best! An ensemble cast of horticulture, history, community involvement, and environmental efforts creating Technicolor triumph. Producers: Energetic volunteers, elected officials, community-minded businesses. Direction and Technical Assistance: America in Bloom, an awards program providing a script for success, online and print resources, and on-site reviews. Help your town step into the spotlight! Have your people contact our people.

Hudson Valley Seed Library

484 Mettakahonts Road, Accord, NY 12404

Contact: Ken Greene, 845-235-7514, ken@seedlibrary.org

Art of the Heirloom

The Hudson Valley Seed Library believes that every seed is a story and every garden is a work of art. To celebrate the incredible diversity of seeds, the Library commissions artists to interpret the flower, vegetable, and herb varieties in its catalog. A selection of these original works, including the 16 new commissions for 2015, is displayed here. These works of art become seed packs, called Art Packs, available at the show and online.

Ikebana International

Philadelphia Chapter 71

550 Main Street, Sewell NJ 08080

Contact: Lorraine Toji, 856-757-9719, ltoji550@comcast.net

Ikebana

This noncompetitive exhibition of Japanese flower arrangements will include arrangements from five schools of Ikebana represented in the Philadelphia Chapter of Ikebana International. The Sogetsu School of Ikebana, featured in this exhibition, is known for freedom of expression of the arranger who often creates very modern arrangements. The exhibition illustrates the varied arrangements of more traditional schools of Ikebana such as Ikenobo and Kofu, beautiful naturalistic arrangements designed by Ohara arrangers, and challenging arrangements emphasizing balance in Ichiyo designs.

Pennsylvania Bonsai Society

1140 Little Conestoga Road, Glenmoore, PA 19343

Contact: Randall Naftal, 484-432-5847, naftal@gmail.com

Art of Bonsai

Founded in 1963, the Pennsylvania Bonsai Society is one of the oldest bonsai groups in the United States. Society members demonstrate all levels of skills from beginner to bonsai “master.” Members have achieved state, national, and worldwide recognition for their skills and achievements. This year’s exhibit celebrates the art of the bonsai.

Philadelphia Society of Botanical Illustrators

2034 Arch Street, Philadelphia, PA 19103

Contact: Judy Simon

Holly, Wood and Vines

The Philadelphia Society of Botanical Illustrators was founded in 1997 with a mission to educate and inform its members and the public about botanical illustration. PSBI and Arcadia University jointly offer classes on botanical and scientific illustration to Philadelphia area high school students that are recommended by their art teacher or principal. All supplies and instructors are provided by PSBI. Their demonstrations at the Flower Show are an important part of their educational mission.

Philadelphia Phillies

One Citizens Bank Way

Philadelphia, PA 19148

Contact: Pamela J. Hall, Director, Landscaping & Site Work Operations, 215-218-5230

Phanatic in the Outfield

Nothing says spring like flowers and baseball. The two come together in this Philadelphia Phillies exhibit which showcases everyone’s favorite mascot, the Phillie Phanatic. Elements of the Phillies’ “Red Goes Green” sustainability program are also featured.

Rosade Bonsai Studio

6912 Ely Road, New Hope, PA 18938

Contact: Chase and Solita Rosade, 215-862-5925, chase@rosadebonsai.com

Bonsai Living Art

The bonsai artist seeks to create with living plant materials a part of the natural world in miniature, with the tree as a focal point. Its trunk, branches, and foliage expertly trained and pruned, bonsai portrays a composition of simplicity and harmony.

Tiny Terra Ferma, Ltd.

4324 Main Street,

Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, 19127

Contact: Jeffrey Lorenz, 267-225-3477

Tiny Terra Ferma believes that safe, accessible green space is essential for everyone, and the team is passionate about empowering individuals, businesses and communities with the resources to transform green space -- big and small.

SPONSORS ON SHOW FLOOR

Bank of America

Hollywood Heritage: Bank of America’s Century-Long Legacy with the Motion Picture Industry

In 1908, a young man named Sol Lesser came to Bank of Italy (later Bank of America) for a loan for his nickelodeon in San Francisco. This began the long-term relationship between Bank of America and the motion picture industry. At a time when many banks considered film to be a risky investment, Bank of America held a different opinion. In 1919, the bank provided a loan to film “The Kid,” directed by and starring Charlie Chaplin. When Walt Disney couldn't get a loan to complete the first full-length animated film, Bank of America stepped in and lent Disney $1.7 million to finish "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." In 1939, when David O. Selznick ran out of money filming "Gone with the Wind," Bank of America provided the funds to finish the production. And in 1947, Bank of America financed one of the first post-war films with an all-black cast to be shot at a major movie studio. Bank of America went on to back Cecil B. DeMille, Sam Goldwyn, Frank Capra, Hal Roach, and Walt Disney, and helped to finance film studios in their formative years. Bank of America has financed such classics as "West Side Story," "Lawrence of Arabia," and "It's a Wonderful Life." Today, Bank of America continues to help make film history through its clients.

EP Henry

P.O. Box 615, Woodbury, NJ, 08096

Contact: 800-444-3679

Exhibit Designer: Joe Palimeno of Ledden Palimeno Design, joep@leddenpalimeno.com

Where Memories Are Made

The enchantment of Old World pavers, outdoor lighting, and the ambient sound of water calls you outside. The warm air and inviting scent of flowers beckon you to step into your own courtyard. As dusk settles, a glass of Bordeaux is served and inspiration takes over. You prepare an appetizer to amuse your palette, and curious neighbors take notice and invite themselves in through the gated entrance. Before long, someone suggests it's a perfect night for a movie, with only the fireflies to compete with the projector and outdoor screen. With the audience comfortably seated on deep cushions, the 10-foot-high Green Wall reveals the screen that will run the chosen selection in this outdoor theater. Tonight it's all about making memories with people you love. What better place than your own backyard?

Espoma

6 Espoma Road

Millville, NJ 08332

Contact: John Harrison, 1-800-634-0603, www.espoma.com

The Beauty of Container Gardening

This display focuses on the beauty of container gardening with inspirational designs for creating stunning containers using organic products. Colorful containers and plants in a variety of textures come together to create a healthy and beautiful garden anywhere. City or country, indoor or outdoor, deck or balcony, container gardens can move with the seasons and create a splash of color wherever you like.

Green Mountain Energy

300 West 6th Street, Suite 1600, Austin, TX 78701

Contact: Natalie Gray, 512-691-6201

www.greenmountainenergy.com

Green Mountain Energy, the nation's longest serving renewable energy retailer and an Official Sponsor of the Flower Show, is proud to support PHS with a $1 donation to the PHS Plant One Million tree campaign on behalf of each new Pennsylvania customer. Customers also support solar energy for non-profits, helping build a solar farmstand at PHS Meadowbrook Farm in 2014, through the company's monthly contribution to its Sun Club® program.

Subaru of America

2235 Route 70 West, Cherry Hill, NJ 08034

Contact: Abana Jacobs, 856-488-8500, ajacobs@subaru.com

Exhibit Designer: Joe Palimeno of Ledden Palimeno Design, joep@leddenpalimeno.com

Film Takes Flight!

This exhibit ends the confusion about which birdhouse is right for a visitor's yard, and allows her to email a birdhouse plan. The exhibit also uses an interactive app to filter and match bird feeders with food and what bird eats which food. As visitors walk through a giant birdhouse, they learn to "speak chickadee" and come away with a new understanding of what the birds are saying to each other in the garden.

Tourism Ireland

Exhibit Designer: Michael Petrie's Handmade Gardens, Michael Petrie, 610-505-8262

Who needs fifty shades of grey when you have forty shades of green? And what better place to find romance than in White O'Morn cottage, where John Wayne wooed Maureen O'Hara all those years ago? The 1952 Oscar-winning movie "The Quiet Man," set in stunning County Mayo, put Ireland's beautiful Wild Atlantic Way scenery on the map. This year's Tourism Ireland garden is a celebration of a time when Hollywood glamour met Irish charm. The thatched cottage featured in the movie established for many fans the quintessential Irish movie location. In Ireland's Wild West, stone walls cross the landscape, herds of sheep graze the lush fields, and garden roses; daisies, butterfly weed, begonias, hellebore, native rhododendrons and azaleas roam wildly, illustrating the stunning natural beauty of Ireland's Western landscape.

MEDIA CONTACTS:

Alan Jaffe, PHS Director of Communications, 215.988.8833, mobile 267.968.0859, ajaffe@pennhort.org

Marion McParland, PHS Communications Specialist, 215.988.8815, mobile 609.238.9599, mmcparland@pennhort.org